FORMER M'KINNEY MAN HONORED BONHAM CITIZEN

DALE WOLFORD DISTRICT MANAGER MUNICPAL GAS CO.

While attending the Congressman Sam Rayburn homecoming, at Bonham, Monday night, this editor met up with a longtime former Collin friend, who now lives in Bonham. He was K. D. (Dale) Wolford, district manager of the Municipal Gas Company with headquarters, in Bonham. He has seventeen towns in North and Northeast Texas under his supervision. His headquarters office, in Bonham, was on the street directly opposite the speaker's stand from which the preliminary speakers and Congressman Rayburn made their addresses. Dale opened up his office doors and placed large comfortable chairs in the doorway in front of the building as a special courtesy to his old Collin county home friends from McKinney. Dale is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wolford, a pioneer McKinney couple. Three of his brothers are still residing in McKinney: Prof. Earl Y. Wolford, head of the Commercial Department of our high school; City Secretary G. Frank Wolford and W. JIMMIE ALLRED WON VAST SUM FOR SCHOOLS

In a recent speech at Marshall, Texas, Attorney General James V. Allred declared that within the last three years he and his Department won more suits than were ever before tried in a comparable length of time in Texas history.

"My opponents are seeking to discredit my work as Attorney General," Allred said. "Let me invite you to look closely into my record. It's an open book. Despite the mouthings of my opponents, it is for the people to decide whether or not I have worked faithfully and honestly in their interests."

Reviewing his record, the Attorney General pointed out that he had won for the school children of Texas a judgment conservatively estimated at $20,000,000. Future generations will profit from the single court victory, he said. Allred also declared that in less than four years his department has collected and saved for the State a sum exceeding $7,000,000.

"It seems significant that when I sought re-election to the high office I now hold, the citizens of Texas showed such confidence that I polled 600,768 votes—by far the largest number ever received by a candidate who had opposition."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tittle plan to visit relatives of Mrs. Tittle next week in Caddo and Coral-casas. Mr. Tittle is the efficient operator at the Ritz theater and will be on a two weeks' vacation.

COLLIN SENDS LARGE DELEGATION TO ATTEND CONGRESSMAN RAYBURN HOMECOMING AT BONHAM MONDAY

Collin county sent a large delegation of voters to attend the Congressman Sam Rayburn homecoming celebration Monday night, July 2, by Bonham, the home town of the distinguished Texas statesman.

Among those going from McKinney were Judge E. W. Merritt, James H. Merritt and wife, former County Tax Collector Henry E. Morgan, James R. Wiley, J. W. Purcell, Ed Blakeman, Democratic Executive Committee chairman of Collin county, and wife; Hon. H. H. Neilson, H. A. Finch Jr., A. H. Eubanks, Prof. Jack R. Ryan, Mayor Joe E. Largent, O. L. Hope, former County Clerk Shirley G. Taylor, W. Phil Wolford, Prof. J. T. Rollins, Prof. A. A. Alexander, Walter B. Wilson, one of the editors of this paper, and many others perhaps whom we did not see in the estimated crowd of 5,000 to 6,000 people. Many attended from other Collin points.

Judge H. H. Cunningham of Bonham gracefully presided as chairman on a big platform erected on the corner of the square with seating arrangements for 3,000 or 4,000 people. These were all packed to capacity and several thousand more were standing around the edges while others were sitting in parked autos or in the doorways and windows of stores and offices or in upper stories of adjacent buildings, listening to the proceedings and band music. Two bands discoursed music, one of them being from Greenville and composed of about sixty pieces. A delegation of more than 100 people were in the Greenville caravan. Various Collin county towns were represented, also, as were almost every town and village of all the other six counties in the Fourth Congressional district.

Hardy Eubanks Collin Speaker.

A. H. Eubanks, McKinney banker and civic leader, was a two-minute speaker from Collin county and was among those who sat on the platform with the honoree of the evening. Judge Wade represented Rockwall county. Kaufman county, Hunt county, Grayson county, Fannin county and Rains county were also represented by enthusiastic two-minute speakers; preceding the main address of the evening by Congressman Rayburn who seemed to be profoundly impressed and touched by the enthusiastic outpouring and enthusiasm of people from all over the district to welcome him back home from the national capital where he had rendered such conspicuous service in helping uphold the hands of the President Roosevelt and backing the National Democratic Administration in its "New Deal" that is so evidently overcoming the depression and turning the nation back to normal times again in a business way.

Mr. Rayburn briefly reviewed some of the momentous legislation enacted, some of which he sponsored at the special request of our great president, although he was overly modest in claiming credit due him for his part as had been referred to by several of the previous speakers.

All the speakers predicted the overwhelming re-election of Congressman Rayburn who is assured of a big majority in each of the seven counties of the district on July 28.

Mr. Rayburn made the trip from Washington by auto in company with Dan Inglish, one of his secretaries, who lives at Bonham. He stopped twice en route to Texas to make addresses. His secretary, Miss Alla Clary of Prosper, West Collin, remains in Washington but is expected to leave the national capital for Bonham about July 15.

Mr. Rayburn will formally open his speaking campaign for renomination at Rockwall Thursday night, July 12. Rockwall and Kaufman are both new counties in the Fourth District, as a result of the re-districting of the state last year.

Henry Edward Warden, son of Major and Mrs. John Warden, of Chicago, has been visiting his grandmothers, Mrs. F. M. Warden, and Mrs. G. E. Abernathy. He left Wednesday for Texas A. & M. college to complete his summer course.

Little Miss Rebecca Crim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Crim, has returned from Sherman where she visited at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Looper.

W. H. May, a real dirt farmer and fine fellow of Route 3, Blue Ridge, dropped in to see us. Ordered the Weekly Democrat-Gazette. Mr. May owns a good farm in that section of the county, and is one of the best posted men on general affairs we have talked to in a long while. Pleased to enroll him as a regular reader of the Weekly Democrat-Gazette.

Honored At Homecoming

CONGRESSMAN RAYBURN

HUGHES RESENTS JIM FERGUSON'S ACTIVITY IN RACE

Maury Hughes, candidate for Governor from Dallas, in a speech Friday night, at Austin expressed the belief that whatever evils have resulted from the repeal of national prohibition can be laid at the door of the drys and the demagogues representing them in politics.

Hughes took cognizance of the entry of Jim Ferguson into active campaigning, when he said that former Governor Ferguson supporters will not support C. C. McDonald, regardless of what the former Governor may say.

"It is for the reason they see the threat of a dry Governor," he said. "They know that unless they select the strongest liberal, he will be defeated. Charlie McDonald can not win in the run-off. He can not win a single county in North Texas, regardless of who makes speeches for him.

"Ferguson has been honored sufficiently at the hands of the people of Texas. He shouldn't interfere in this race so that a wet gets into the race who can not win. The drys and the Anti-Saloon League are trying to get hold of the Governor's office."

Retired McKinney Grocery Merchant Burial Wednesday

Death Occurs at City Hospital Tuesday Night; Deceased Was in Grocery Business Here for Several Years

John W. Green, retired McKinney grocery merchant, prominent farm owner and highly respected Christian gentleman, died at the City hospital a little after eight o'clock Tuesday night, July 3, from fatal injuries inflicted by an infuriated Jersey bull, about two hours before on the farm of the deceased, about two miles southwest of Allen.

Funeral services were held at 5:00 o'clock yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon at the First Baptist church in this city conducted by the pastor, Dr. J. H. Cozad. Interment followed in Rowlett Creek cemetery, twelve miles southwest of McKinney, directed by the Sam J. Massie & Son Funeral home.

Tragic Death Shock to Our City.

The deceased and wife, who reside at 107 South Waddill street, this city, had gone down to their two farms, near Allen. The deceased and a colored farm hand, George Craig, had gone down into the pasture to change a Jersey bull from one pasture to another. The animal showed figat on the colored man, who had a grubbing hoe handle with which to defend himself and who was ahead of Mr. Green some distance. The vicious animal seemed to subside before this threat, but in going through a fence gap with the negro following, bushes concealed Mr. Green from his view. When the bull came through, he pounced upon the helpless victim whose distress call for help and Mrs. Green, who was at a distance seeing the attack, also cried out to the colored man. The latter rushed up and beat the bull from the prostrate form of Mr. Green. In the meantime, Mrs. Green brought an iron crowbar to the colored man, who drove the bull away. An ambulance was summoned and conveyed the injured victim to the hospital where he passed away as above stated. His chest was crushed by the vicious butting of the dehorned, infuriated animal.

Native Texan.

John Wilkerson Green was born May 16, 1879, at Lancaster, Dallas county, being 55 years, 1 month and 17 days old, at the time of his tragic death. His parents, Gabe and Martha (Percifui) Green, both natives of Kentucky, settled in the Lebanon community in Southwest Collin when the deceased was a little child. He attended school at Lebanon and at Hawthorne college, in McKinney. He lived eleven years at Albuquerque, New Mexico, but moved back to Texas and settled in McKinney ,September 1, 1920, engaging in the grocery business, known as the Guarantee Cash Grocery, located on East Louisiana street. He retired from this business about six years later and devoted himself thereafter to looking after his farming interests.

Twice Married.

The deceased was twice married, his first wife being Miss Mattie Bush, daughter of the late J. N. Bush of Allen, who died soon after their marriage. One son was born to that marriage, Alfred Green, now living at Tampa, Florida. His second marriage was to Miss Flossie Floyd, January 15, 1907, in the Hedgcoxe community, southwest of McKinney with Rev. Mr. Fletcher officiating .She and their two sons, Leonard M. Green of Dallas and John W. Green Jr., a junior in Baylor university, survive. Mr. Green was the last of the immediate family of his parents to be called by death.

Mr. Green was a lifelong member of the Baptist church, being a deacon at his death. He had always been active in church and Sunday school life and was a man of the highest Christian integrity, honored and universally respected as a devoted husband, a loving provident father and loyal neighbor and friend.

Our entire city and county mourn his tragic death.

W. H. Rich, passed away at his home in the Valdasta community, in Northeast Collin, Tuesday afternoon, July 3. His funeral services were held at 4:00 o'clock last Wednesday afternoon at Chambliss with the C. C. Harris Funeral home of this city in charge.

Candidates To Visit Clearlake Friday, July 6

T. M. Simmons and J. W. Boyer, fine citizens of the Clearlake community, were here Monday and made this office an appreciated visit. They tell us on Friday, July 6, a free old-time, old-fashioned barbecue will be given at Clearlake and everyone is invited. There will be good speaking from noon until night. Each and every candidate, from governor to constable, will be given an opportunity to announce, if they will be present. A large crowd is expected. Clearlake is one of the best communities in the county and are fine, friendly people.

Messrs. Simmons and Boyer inform these editors that following the barbecue, beginning about 8:30, a dance will be given on the large leading platform at that place, with a stringed band furnishing music. A big time is anticipated.

Mrs. J. Warren Jones, who has been confined to her home with illness for several days, continues to show improvement.

Dr. Toll Moore has arrived in McKinney from Galveston to visit his father, Dr. W. T. Moore, and family. He was graduated with honors one year ago from the State Medical college, at Galveston, where he has been serving an internship in the John Sealey Hospital during the past year.

PERSONALS

This editor's friend of many years' standing, Will Wallis, who lives east of Melissa, dropped in to see us. Will has a twin brother, Joe, living at Wylie. Although we have known them all our lives, we have never yet learned to know one from the other. Both are very fine men, none better in the world. Both successful farmers. Joe takes the Weekly Democrat-Gazette at Wylie and Will at Melissa, the paper having gone to the Wallis family for more than forty years. This editor knew Charlie Wallis, their father, who passed on several years ago. Mrs. Wallis is in fairly good health, considering her age, being 79. She resides East of Melissa. Will has recently built him a nice home on his farm east of Melissa. All the Wallis' are welcome at this office.

Bevis Davis' name is not on the ballot in the race for Flotor from the counties of Grayson and Collin. Mr. Davis announced but failed ,or forgot, to file his name with the chairman of the Democratic Executive committee in Grayson county. Mr. Davis is a farmer living in the Western section of Grayson county. James S. Cone of Sherman; Charlie Akin of Princeton and Grover Burton of McKinney are the three candidates for this important position, being two from Collin and only one from Grayson county. Therefore, in all probability, there will have to be a run-off. Grayson county has had the representative the past four years and naturally, it is Collin county's time this time.

S. H. (Steve) Shipman was a business visitor in the city Saturday and dropped around to chat us editors. We have known and liked Steve Shipman all our lives. He is one of the real, solid, honest-to-goodness, God-fearing men of our county. He is successful in business affairs, honest, clean and straight. Used to live in McKinney. Owns quite a lot of city property here now. Lives on his farm in the Climax community, east of Princeton, being one of the best farms in the entire county. While here he renewed for another year to the Weekly Democrat-Gazette, the paper having gone into his home for almost forty years. We certainly appreciated the visit of this fine man.

C. H. (Shazlie) Akin of Princeton, candidate for Flotorial Representative, was in McKinney Tuesday enroute for Westminster, Anna and Northeast Collin points to shake hands with the dear voters. Mr. Akin is reported to be making some very effective brief speeches every night at the speaking places of the Collin county candidates itinerary.

John L. English, 60, former tax collector and county auditor of Hunt county and secretary of the State Auditor's association for ten years, died at his home in Greenville Tuesday and was buried Wednesday. Mr. English has quite a few friends in Collin county, who regretted to hear of his death.

M. L. Vermillion and R. J. Edwards represented the little Northeast Collin town of Westminster in the big Congressman Sam Rayburn homecoming Monday night, at Bonham.

W. N. Isbura, J. E. Dickerson and Shirley Taylor, all of Melissa, attended the Congressman Sam Rayburn homecoming rally, at Bonham, Monday night.

Mrs. Jewel Abernathy, who has been critically ill for several days, was reported as resting some better Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Miss Kistler's wedding gown was fashioned of flesh lace, of princess design made with short train and a shoulder cape. She wore long lace mits and pink slippers. Her bridal veil was a flesh colored illusion with a wreath of white orange blossoms across the back. She carried a beautiful sheaf bouquet of gladioli tied with a large satin bow, the streamers of which hung to the floor.

Glen Walker Massie and Charles Graves were ushers and lighted the candles for the wedding ceremony. Following a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Helms will be at home in Celina where he is in business.

By Mrs. A. H. Bridgefarmer

Misses Mary Lou and Ruth Graves entertained Tuesday afternoon from 5 to 7 with a lawn party at their lovely home in Melissa, announcing the engagement of Miss Maye Phillips and James Long of McKinney.

Seats were placed on the lovely lawn in front of the house where the guests met and were entertained by the gracious hostesses. Little De Lee Smart, gowned in a colonial frock of rainbow colors, appeared with a telegram which she presented to Miss Elizabeth Moore, niece of the hostesses, which was signed by Dan Cupid, and announced the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Phillips and Mr Long.

After several diversions delicious grape punch was served by the hostesses, assisted by Misses Elizabeth Moore, Annie Maye Slaughter and Gladys Graves. The guests then wrote love letters, each pretending to be either the bride-to-be or groom-elect writing the other and which were later read aloud.

Plates were passed with home-made ice cream and cake and little silver placards containing the words "Phillips-Long July 5."

The colored boy, Lem, drove up in a car and announced he had some parcel post for Miss Maye Phillips, the honoree. The wrapped packages of a miscellaneous shower were piled around the bride-to-be, who unwrapped the odd shapes amid "ahs" and "ohs" and revealed many beautiful and useful gifts.

Guests for the lovely occasion were: Misses Johnny Mae and Anna Ruby Long, sisters of the groom, Miss Mary Hill and Mrs. Sam Wysong, all of McKinney; Mesdames Spencer White, Shaw, Rowell and Doyle Melson of Kelly, where Misses Phillips and Mary Lou Graves have taught school for several years and expect to teach next year; Misses Eula and Katherine Barker, Corinne Gibson, Academus F. C. Ogilvie, Roy Knox, J. T. Manstooth, Alvin Lindsey, Joe C. Moore, Joe Knox, E. O. Knox, G. W. Moore, Russell Lawson, J. L. Gibson, W. M. Gibson, H. T. Leigh, W. W. Mangum, A. H. Bridgefarmer, J. W. Berry, D. W. Smart and Misses Annie Maye Slaughter, Gladys Graves, Elizabeth Moore, Johnnie Mantooth and De Lee Smart and Mrs. Mance Mitchell of Austin.

Keep Gardens Plowed, Ready For Rains

Since summer gardens have been cut short by the drouth, J. T. Rosborough, extension horticulturist of Texas A. & M. college, advises garden demonstrators that the garden be plowed and kept in good tilth in anticipation of rains which will make fall gardens possible, says Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration club agent. He says that if weeds are kept down and that the soil is kept in good condition to catch and hold moisture that it should be easy to get good early fall garden vegetables.

Should rains come, Mr. Rosborough says that fall gardens can be planted in this section of the state during the latter part of August. He advises the planting of onion sets, swiss chard, Irish potatoes, pinto beans and radishes for the most dependable early fall plantings.

Memorial Day Services At Pleasant Grove

A. D. Snider, substantial resident of the Climax community, tells us that plans are being made for the seventeenth annual memorial day services at the Pleasant Grove Methodist church at Climax for Friday, July 13. The program will begin at 10 o'clock, continuing all day. At noon basket will be spread on the grounds. Mr. Snider says the general public is cordially invited and he is expecting a large crowd. All who attend are promised a day of good fellowship and a fine program.

R. R. Parker, Dr. Cato and Mr. Shannon, both of Farmersville, and Lee Evans of Climax, have returned from a week's very enjoyable motor trip to Medina Lake, thirty-five miles west of San Antonio. They were guests of Mr. St. John, proprietor of the High Lonesome Hunting and Fishing lodge. Mr. St. John is a former Collin county citizen. He showed his old Collin friends a very good time. They caught lots of fish, saw lots of squirrel and two deer. They state that there was considerable complaint of drouth and as a result of the light rainfall for the past several months, the Medina River has stopped flowing.

Miss Ruth Bounds, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Minor Bounds of this city, visited in Commerce Monday and mingled with her numerous friends among both the faculty members and student body. She attended that institution for two or three years. She greatly enjoyed her stay during the day. Her brother, Minor Bounds, Jr., a young theologist and graduate of Southern Methodist University, is taking a special academic course at the E. T. S. T. C., this summer, preparatory to continuing his theological studies at S. M. U., commencing next September.

Congressman J. W. BAILEY JR.

Senator TOM CONNALLY

SEN. TOM CONNALLY REVIEWS RECORD DURING HIS STAY IN WASHINGTON BEFORE LARGE CROWD IN GREENVILLE

A large number of McKinney and Collin county friends and supporters motored over to Greenville Saturday evening to attend the Senator Tom Connally district rally and speaking held on the courthouse square at the Hunt county capital city. Senator Connally gave a report of his services during the past six years. It was his opening speech in his campaign for re-election for a second term as junior United States Senator.

Preceding his address friends and supporters from several North and Northeast Texas counties spoke briefly, commending the work of Senator Connally during his stay in Washington. A. H. Eubanks of McKinney was the first speaker, representing Collin county at the rally. Others present at the rally from this city in addition to Mr. Eubanks, were W. Avery Dowell, Mayor Joe E. Largent, Ed Blakeman, County Democratic Chairman; Walter B. Wilson and a number of other friends.

Marvin F. Love, Greenville insurance man and a long time friend of the Senator, was responsible for arrangements of the program, and rapped the gavel for the opening of the meeting.

Greets Friends.

He introduced L. A. Clark, attorney and banker, who introduced the Senator. Clark likewise has long been a friend of Connally. As the crowd awaited the appearance of the speaker the Greenville municipal band played several times.

Senator Connally opened his address, broadcast by radio, at 8:30 o'clock, reviewing the accomplishments of the Roosevelt administration and contrasting the outlook today with the dark picture when the president took office. He lauded the president as a "gallant Democrat" at whose shoulder he was proud to stand in the fight against "those who would exploit the people."

Lauds Roosevelt.

Of the latter he said in part, "Yonder in the nation's capital is the figure of a mighty Democrat, battling against those who would exploit the people. He is standing by the American people, and the American people ought to stand by him. I have come back to my own people that they may judge as to how I have stood by them, by the great body of the American people ,and by their chosen leader, our great Democratic captain, Franklin D. Roosevelt, president of the United States."

The candidate brushed the question of liquor law repeal aside as not being an issue in the campaign. He said that he had voted for submission in the senate, but had cast his ballot against repeal at the polls.

On the matter of oil regulation, Connally said that the federal government, under the Connally hot oil amendment of 1933, which bans oil produced in defiance of state regulatory measures from interstate commerce, is all that is needed. He said that he did not favor the Ickes bill introduced in the last session of congress.

Would Defer Vet Payments.

The adjusted service compensation certificates of the veterans, the speaker said, should be paid, not now, but at some future time when the state of business and the federal treasury will permit. To pay them now, in a special currency issue as has been proposed, would, he said, "wreck the currency and financial structure of the nation."

Advocated Devaluation.

Connally said that he was the first senator to advocate devaluation of the dollar, having done so while Hoover was yet in office.

He called attention to his having obtained $560,000 federal money for the relief of Texas rural schools, expressing the belief that this amount would allow them to remain open.

The senator said that he had voted for the farm relief bill, which he claimed has brought large benefits to the farmers of this state, at every stage of its progress through congress.

He said he took active part in obtaining the seed and crop production loans which grew out of the 1929 drouth conferences, and which have proven of much benefit to farmers ever since.

As a member of the senate finance committee, Connally said, he was the author of the amendment to the revenue act of 1932 of the schedule of income tax rates which equalized the tax burden, carrying an increase for the largest incomes.

He said he had supported the home loan act, being one of the first to advocate government guarantee of its bonds.

Speaking of the recovery program, and the part played in it by the seventy-third congress, Senator Connally said:

"Many other measures which were a part of the recovery program were enacted. Taken all in all the legislative achievements of the seventy-third congress present a comprehensive far-seeing program of rehabilitation and recovery. There is no claim made that errors have not been committed. Mistakes, no doubt, have been made. However ,the high purpose and lofty motives of the congress and of the president can not be questioned. The great objective has been to redeem platform pledges and start America once again on the roadway to recovery and restoration.

T. M. Simmons and J. W. Boyer, fine citizens of the Clearlake community, were here Monday and made this office an appreciated visit. They tell us on Friday, July 6, a free old-time, old-fashioned barbecue will be given at Clearlake and everyone is invited. There will be good speaking from noon until night. Each and every candidate, from governor to constable, will be given an opportunity to announce, if they will be present. A large crowd is expected. Clearlake is one of the best communities in the county and are fine, friendly people.

A. C. Bullock Jr., smile and all, is again at his place of business, Bullock's Service Station, corner West Virginia and North Church street. He recently underwent an operation at the City hospital for appendicitis, but is again up and about to the delight of his many friends.

Young Collin Teacher in College At Commerce

Prof. C. D. Taylor who taught the Cottage Hill school as principal during the past four years and has been re-elected to the same position for next year, was a business visitor at our office Saturday. He is studying this summer in the East Texas State Teachers college, at Commerce, being in his Senior year, and will soon be awarded his degree. Prof. Taylor is a son of C. A. Taylor, 702 Cedar street, McKinney, and a grandson of G. A. Taylor, who also resides in McKinney in his home on North Kentucky street. Cottage Hill is a three-teacher school. The other two teachers are Miss Julia Darnell, daughter of G. W. Darnell of Cottage Hill and Miss Imogene Bush of Denton. Prof. Taylor is a fine young educator, and we predict will be heard from in the future in the field of public education.

CHILD SURVEY IS BEING MADE IN COUNTY

A house-to-house canvass or survey of the condition of handicapped children has already commenced in the county. Lee Fitzgerald has been appointed supervisor and will have charge of the work and of the enumerators over the county, all of whom are to be taken off the relief rolls. The work started Monday morning.

This work is under the supervision of the Texas Relief Commission, cooperating with the American Legion, the American Legion Auxiliary, the Division of Blind Hygiene in the State Department of Health, the Rehabilitation Department of Education, the State Bland Commission and the Blind Welfare Division. This survey is for the families of ex-service men and women, as well as for all families who have blind, crippled or otherwise handicapped children.

Anyone under fifty-five years of age in this condition will be visited and a record made of their case. When this list is completed, these organizations will have a complete case history of every handicapped person in the county under fifty-five years of age.

The completion of this record will provide details on which to base rehabilitation work in Texas in the future and will also greatly assist the Blind Commission in its work.

According to E. E. Bickers, county relief administrator, this survey will likely be completed within the next six weeks.

This is an improtant work, which will give a record of every person under fifty-five years of age in the county who is handicapped and will give these different agencies a definite basis on which to formulate a program of assistance in future years.

Former County Judge R. L. Moulden is busy with his McKinney law practice now after undergoing a serious surgical operation several months ago. He obtained relief and is looking better and feels stronger than he has for several years.

Editorial Expression

HE DOES IT RIGHT.

Mr. W. L. Roper, teacher in the Anna public schools, has for years been reinforcing daily the text: "Be sure your sin will find you out" in the chapel exercises of the school.

He has done this by taking accounts of the arrests, slayings, or other predicaments of criminals, read from the Dallas News.

He has set and is setting a fine example for other teachers, Sunday school teachers, preachers and parents. There is no law against teaching good citizenship in the public schools. There could not be found a better way to teach it than by calling attention to the tragedies produced by wrong doing.—Texas Baptist Standard.

Collin county has fewer illiterates than many counties in the state, according to a recent survey made by the Rotary International and sent to Secretary W. Hammond Moore of the McKinney Chamber of Commerce. This survey gives Collin county a rating of less than 4.3 per cent illiteracy. The average illiteracy in America is 4.3 per cent. There are a number of Northern and Eastern counties boasting of less than one per cent illiteracy. But, there are huge numbers of Southern counties, according to this survey, which are above 4.3 per cent. In fact, the "deep south", which has many negroes, has a great majority of counties ranked in such order.

A very greatly reduced per-acre yield will cause the 1934 cotton crop in the South to decrease to 10,630,000 bales according to Fairchild's Bureau, at New York, in a recent statement. The Bureau gives as its estimate 173.5 pounds per acre and a condition of 72.9 per cent of normal against the 208.5 pounds per acre in 1933 and a ten year condition of 76 per cent normal. Last year 29,270,000 acres were planted, only a little more than this year. It is possible that the per acre yield may be as low as stated, the average yield in 1932 being 173.3. Such a small crop would be the "making" of the South again with higher prices bound to follow.

The ambitious Texas program of roadside beautification for the 1936 Texas Centennial embraces not only the planting of trees, shrubs and flowers along the right of way but also the development of wayside parks for the free use of tourists who wish to stop to rest and eat. With the expected completion of 175 of these roadside parks this year, this part of the State Highway Department's plan already will be well under way. Texas is trying hard to get her highways in condition for the Centennial and, no doubt, with the cooperation and effort that is now being put forward, will succeed.

home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Russell, who came from Missouri to Texas, landing here, December 17, 1845. This date was a few days prior to the merging of the Texas Republic into Texas statehood. Collin county was created by the First Legislature in the spring of 1846. Shortly after the organization of the Plano Methodist church society, similar ones were organized in the Bethel community of West Collin and at the home of J. B. Culwell in what is now known as the Cottage Hill community on Honey Creek, twelve miles northwest of McKinney. These churches are, therefore, now from eighty-six to eighty-eight years old.

The candidates' speaking tour of the county, covering all the central points where voters gather to hear the qualifications of each aspirant, is a convenient arrangement for the voters. It gives the candidates a chance to tell the voters of their ability and in some instances amounts almost to a debate. The voters in the various voting districts take advantage of the opportunity offered by this tour to become better acquainted with the candidates. It helps them come to decision as to how they should vote.

Nothing but praise is heard by these editors for Cabell's Ice Cream, which is made from pure, rich, sweet and fresh Jersey cream, produced right here in Collin county. Cabell owns the McKinney Milk Products Co. plant of this city. They are buying all the whole milk they can obtain here, which they separate and truck to Dallas to manufacture their famous ice cream and other products. They have eight stores of their own scattered over Dallas, all exclusively retailing Cabell's ice cream.

Home grown Collin county roasting ears are being brought to the local market. However, drouth is cutting the crop very short. We regret this as a short corn crop works many hardships on farmers for the year following it.

According to Judge George P. Brown, the first Methodist Society, organized in Collin county, came into existence in the spring of 1846. The organization was effected in the

The McKinney Junior Chamber of Commerce is a hustling, wideawake group of young business men who are constantly working for the best interests of McKinney. The Jaycees have sponsored, developed and brought to success a number of plans and ideas for McKinney and Collin county. Keep up the good work, boys. It will develope you too as well as your town and county.

County Farm Agent Jack P. McCullough is a mighty busy man and has been for the past two years in cooperating with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration created by President Roosevelt for the relief of the farmer. County agents all over the nation were used as key men in the A. A. A. set-up and Agent McCullough has had his hands full in assisting in this county.

McKinney must not wait for other cities to set her an example in progressiveness. Let us develope ideas and not wait for someone else to develope them for us.

Hospital Leads In Low Cost

DR. CHAS. W. CASTNER

DR. CASTNER'S HOSPITAL LEADS IN LOW COST

COLLIN PHYSICIAN HEAD WICHITA FALLS HOSPITAL MAKES RECORD

Dr. Chas. W. Castner, superintendent of the Wichita Falls State Hospital for treatment of the insane and mentally sick, has the honor of being at the head of the eleemosynary institution of the state's total of nineteen such enterprises, that has the lowest per capita cost to the taxpayers of Texas. Dr. Castner went from this county into the service of the state some years ago in the treatment and care of mental defectives and has become quite an outstanding executive as head of the Wibhita Falls hospital.

The following dispatch of June 29 from Austin, the state capital, says:

STATE INSTITUTIONS COST IS $3,785,541

Austin, Texas, June 29.—The cost for the support and maintenance of the State's nineteen eleemosynary institutions for the fiscal year ending Aug. 31, 1933, was $3,785,541, according to the Board of Control.

There were 18,654 patients in the institutions and employes numbered 2,511 with a total pay roll of $143,208. The average salary was $57.03 a month. The total spent for new buildings was $499,112.

The per capita cost for the year was $222.54. The Wichita Falls State Hospital had the lowest per capita cost, $169.80; Terrell State hospital was second with $177.39, and San Antonio State hospital third with $183.24.

The Galveston State Psychopathic hospital showed the highest per capita cost, $1,178.68. The next highest was the Confederate Men's home, $571.58, then the Confederate Women's home with $556.

The July meeting of Throckmorton camp association was held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the vine-clad porch at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Waide. After an interesting business meeting an informal program was enjoyed. The last national reunion at Chattanooga was discussed; also the state meeting at Bryan, Texas, of Wood's and Martin's brigades; and the next state reunion of Confederate veterans and then our own local Confederate and old settlers picnic during the last days of July. The brief but cooling shower of Sunday afternoon was a most pleasant diversion. Delicious ice cream and cookies were served by Mesdames Waide and Wilcox. Adjourned to meet the first Sunday in August if the weather is favorable.

Jess Eakles, who moved to McKinney about a year ago and who built a nice home on Church street, is a native of Collin county, as well as is his good wife. This editor had a long chat with them the other day. They are both going on "borrowed time," have no children, but have saved up enough of this world's goods to be on "easy street" and are greatly enjoying themselves. Mr. Eakles is a successful business man, and right by his side for fifty years, has this good woman helped him. It is mighty fine for people who reach and have traveled the fifty years road together. Many more years to them.

M'DONALD AND ALLRED MEET AT JASPER

Jasper, Texas, voters heard two leading candidates speak in the court house there the same night to the same audience.

The first co-called debate between two major candidates for governor witnessed in Texas in many years was staged amid a thunderstorm in the Jasper county court house Thursday, June 28 when C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls and Attorney General James V. Allred met accidentally as their campaign trails crossed.

At that it was a one-sided discussion. While the young attorney general listened intently from a back seat, McDonald, long the "pour it on" ace of the Ferguson campaigns and renowed for his sizzling excoriations of opponents, adhered to his policy of saying nothing against any of his opponents in the first primary, and left the courtroom before Allred mounted the speaker's platform and proceeded to riddle several of McDonald's platform planks with verbal bullets.

Both candidates confined their addresses in the main to their platforms with a few extra remarks.

McDonald discussed his plan to abolish poor houses, lower taxes and interest and pointed out that he was the only grandfather in the race—a distinction, he said, that should bring him the vote of that particular group of parents.

Allred on the other hand castigated the lobbyists and utilities and criticized McDonald for mentioning ex-service men's adjusted compensation certificates, and free coinage of silver.

A crowd of several hundred jammed the courtroom to hear the debate.

HEALTHY CATTLE HERDS FOUND IN THIS COUNTY

Dr. M. A. Molchon of Michigan and Dr. S. E. Grover of Fort Worth, Federal Government veterinarians, for the past several days have been in Collin county making a tubercular test of cattle. The government requires such a test to be made once every three years, such a test having been made here three years ago. The examination of Collin cattle, being made at the present time, is according to the Federal Government requirements in making a retest every three years.

The work began some three weeks ago under the direction of Dr. Noyes who was called to West Texas in the drouth stricken areas. Succeeding him, as above mentioned, are Drs. Molohon and Grove. They expect to conclude their work during the first week in July. They are finding the cattle in this county in excellent condition as regards the presence of tuberculosis. They are examining something like 300 to 500 cattle a week. The importance of this test made every three years can not be over estimated, safeguarding the health of our people. Work is under the supervision of the county commissioners court headed by County Judge J. Frank Harrington. The Federal Government is paying for this project from which the county is receiving such great benefit.

Collin county is one of the cleanest counties, regarding tuberulin-free cattle in the state and the test being made here is merely a requirment of the Federal government and does not indicate a prevadence of tubercular cattle.

TOM CONNALLY AND AMBASSADOR JOSEPHUS DANIELS

United States Senator Tom Connally, who spoke at Greenville, Saturday night, to a great crowd of voters from Hunt and other North and East Texas counties, giving an account of his stewardship as United States Senator for the last six years, will continue to speak in other sections of the state.

He was guest Thursday night of the Austin Chamber of Commerce at an outdoor dinner, at which as announced to the big crowd present that President Roosevelt, earlier in the day, had approved a $4,500,000 public works loan for the completion of the Hamilton dam project. He had been working with representative J. P. Buchanan to obtain presidential favor for the Hamilton dam project and Mr. Buchanan telegraphed that the matter had been approved.

The speaking itinerary of Senator Connally, beginning, July 2, was broken so that he could join Josephus Daniels ambassador to Mexico on a tour of inspection of the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Ambassador Daniels, who was Secretary of the Navy in President Wilson cabinet, has been resting several weeks at his home in Raleigh, North Catoulna, and in Washington D. C. He accepted the invitation of the Texas Senator to visit the Lower Rio Grande country where a $4,000,000 flood control project, providing for diversion of flood waters has been completed.

Senator Connally left Greenville after his speech Saturday night for San Antonio where on Sunday morning, he and Ambassador Daniels were breakfast guests of citizens. They went by airplane to Brownsville Monday to view the flood control and irrigation district.

Mr Daniels will proceed on to his station at Mexico City and is making preparations to return in the fall in company with the Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs to make further inspections. It was explained by Senator Connally that about 10 per cent of the water that flows in the Rio Grande in its lower reaches comes from tributaries on Mexican soil. Most of the water is consumed for purposes of irrigation on the Texas side and is necessary to keep the valley the productive area that it is. On the other hand Mexico is the largest user of the waters of the Colorado, all of which originates in the United States, and it is hoped that the two countries may effect an agreement that will preserve existing conditions.

John Milraney left Monday in his auto from Smithville, DeKalb county, Tennessee, to take his friends, T. J. Taylor and sons, Simon H. Taylor of Melissa and R. L. Taylor of Crowell, Foard county, West Texas on a visit to their old home. They will be gone ten days or two weeks. It had been sixteen years since T. J. Taylor had visited his old Tennessee home.

Mrs. Otis Duvall has returned from Abilene where she visited her sister, Mrs. Doyle Kuykendall and family. Mr. and Mrs. Kuykendall are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine seven and half pound baby son, William Beecher, who was born June 22. The young mother will be remembered as Miss Willie Osburn of this city before her marriage.

Mrs. Earl Love was removed from the City hospital Saturday following a tonsil operation performed Thursday. She is doing nicely.

FRIENDS OF HUNTER

Dear Editors:

In the Dallas Dispatch of June 17th, Mr. Glenn Pricer says, "Collin county is almost certain to cast a majority for Hughes."

The friends of Mr. Tom E. Hunter are not ready to concede this to Mr. Hughes nor to any other candidate for governor. They are trying to confer this honor on Mr. Hunter, at the polls.

Mr. Pricer possibly does not know that Mr. C. C. (Red) Christie now a resident of Hardeman county, but who was reared in Collin, is doing some effective work for Mr. Hunter in Collin. Mr. Christie comes from that line of Christies who have been identified with the farming and stock raising business for many years in Collin county. These pioneer Christies have many children and grandchildren still living here. And they are amongst our leading citizens, well known and well liked.

A Tennessean.

Edgar Sevier Burge was born, March 16, 1858, at Chattanooga, Tennessee. He was the son of Dr. William Robert Burge, a practicing physician and also a Methodist minister, who died from exposure, while serving professionally the Confederate troops during the Civil War.

About the close of that terrible strife, the widowed mother, whose maiden name was Charlott Mitchell, traded her land for a wagon and a yoke of oxen and brought her children to Texas. The land that she disposed of is now included in the famous National Park, at Chattanooga. The old log cabin of her parents is till to be seen in that national soiders' memorial park even to this day. The family settled in the Roland community where the mother of the deceased, died March 29, 1897.

Meager School Advantages.

School advantages were very meager when Mr. Burge was a boy, he having received only such training as the crude country district school, with three or four months out of the year, had to offer. He grew up in the Roland community and there took as his bride on January 9, 1879, Miss Lucy Margaret Baxter, who was received into the church and baptized when she was a little girl in the early seventies by the late Bishop Marvin, a noted Southern Methodist divine and preacher. His wife died, September 26, 1923. He is survived by five children; Fred Burge of Roland, G. M. Burge of Houston, Mrs. R. W. Dorchester, and Mrs. C. B. Sullenberger of Denison. Their oldest son, Clyde C. Burge, died August 2, 1931. He is also survived by two grandchildren, Miss Alma Dorchester, of Houston, and Chesley B. Sullenberger, of Denison. The deceased was the last surviving member of his father's immediate family. His last brother, J. J. Burge, died May 28, at his home in Houston, Texas, just a month to a day preceding the death of the subject of this sketch.

A Man of Unusual Energy.

Ed S. Burge, who at the time of his death was 76 years, 3 months and 12 days old, was a man of untiring energy and always had an optimistic outlook on life. When a boy, he professed religion and joined the Methodist church. He always had a warm spot in his heart for ministers of the gospel. The unfortunate in life about him, the poor in this world's goods and the afflicted always had his practical sympathy and help. He bore the reputation of being one of the most liberal hearted men in the community. This editor has often seen him headed for some home to relieve distress with an auto load of a variety of foods, meat and clothing for the physically sick and helpless. Especially was this true in his attitude toward sick preachers and dependent widows and orphan children. He was big hearted, liberal and sympathetic with those who were discouraged by the heavy burdens of life and the victims of an untoward fate or fortune.

He had a big farm and specialized for many years in alfalfa production. During the World war, he converted one of his big alfalfa fields into a landing field for army airplanes and aviators. He did much in a patriotic way to help his country in the war and to keep up the spirit of our people.

He retained his cheerful spirit towards all callers, even to the very last. This editor visited him just one week prior to his death, enjoying an hour's conversation with him in company with Judge T. O. Murray, Contractor George B. Hughes, other longtime friends from McKinney. He was always happy to have his good friends and neighbors visit him, and he did what he could to help scatter sunshine and happiness along the pathway of life.

He loved his friends, he loved life and took zest in living. He never complained during his illness, his only regrets being that his weakness enforced idleness upon him whom there was so much to be done in the world.

He passed with nothing but good will, a kindly word and a cheerful smile for all who visited his bedside during his last illness.

A great outpouring of people attended his obsequies.

SANDWICH AND ICE CREAM SUPPER SUCCESS

Mrs. L. Dow Franklin of the Bloomdale community, while in McKinney Saturday, informed us that the ice cream and sandwich supper, given at Bloomdale Friday night by the ladies of the Home Demonstration club, proved a big success. They sold out, both cream and sandwiches, during the evening.

Proceeds will be used by the demonstration club at that place, who are re-painting their club building and doing other improvements there.

Mrs. Franklin is pleased at the large turnout of McKinney friends to their gathering and spoke highly complimentary of the results of advertising the event in these papers.

The quilt, advertised to be given away, was awarded to Miss Elnora Horn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Horn, and granddaughter of Eld. R. C. Horn, beloved old Christian minister of this city.

New Low Rate Applies to Lighting You Are Now Using

The old residential lighting rate was called a "7 and 5 cent" rate. The new rate can be called a "6, 5, 3 and 2 cent" rate. You can see that the first step in the new rate has been reduced from 7 cents to 6 cents and that new low steps of 3 cents and 2 cents have been added which will permit many customers to use much current at these new low rates.

For commercial lighting users a corresponding change in rate will make possible better lighting of stores and offices at small additional cost, or an immediate saving on the amount of service previously used.

In place of the former energy rates of "7, 5 and 3 cents," the new rate provides for "6, 5, 3 cents," and a new low rate of 2 cents for those who use lights and other electric equipment long hours each day.

There are also provided optional residential and commercial lighting rates, for those who prefer a different type of rate.

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, LOCATED AT COMMERCE, TEXAS, IMPORTANT STATE EDUCATIONAL FACTOR

IS VISITED BY LARGE McKINNEY DELEGATION ACCOMPANYING JUDGE WALLACE HUGHSTON WHO ADDRESSED BIG AUDIENCE ON "THE STUDENT BODY, ITS DEBT AND HOW TO PAY IT."

Judge Wallace Hughston, by invitation, made an address at the college auditorium of the East Texas State Teachers college at Commerce, at 9:00 o'clock Monday morning, July 2, of a non-political nature.

He was introduced by Dr. S. H. Whitley, president of the institution, who stated that it was the policy for the institution to have addresses from candidates for the legislature on non-political subjects where they would or cared to accept. All legislative candidates are treated alike in this respect.

Judge Hughston chose for his subject, "The Student Body, Its Debt and How to Pay It."

He paid a tribute to the framers of the Constitution that provided so liberally in the making of the fundamental law for the cause of future public school and higher education in Texas. Their wisdom was demonstrated in setting aside so much of the public domain as school endowment for the training of the minds and characters of her future citizenship for all time.

He named numerous benefits to student bodies of this and other institutions of an educational character in the state. In convincing and eloquent words, he impressed upon his hearers that they were not expected to repay the debt in money, stocks or bonds, but only in worthy characters, trained minds, useful service, patriotic hearts and spirits. Good citizenship and loyalty to high Christian ideals were the objectives of the fathers of our state and the one main desire of willing taxpayers of every generation who are helping to support and maintain our educational advantage for the boys and girls and young men and young women of past, present and succeeding generations.

A Great Institution.

The East Texas State Teachers college was established in 1917 as a state institution by act of the Thirty-Fifth legislature for the purpose of giving college advantages to high school graduates in this section and the training of teachers. The College assumes the specific task of training men and women for service in the public schools of the state and is under the control of the Board of Regents of the State Teachers colleges of Texas. Courses are offered leading to various kinds of teachers certificates and to the Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Arts degrees. The institution is a member of the Association of Texas colleges, of the American Association of Teachers colleges and of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States. Its graduates are given all benefits and privileges resulting from the standards of these associations. Its faculty of professors, numbering perhaps nearly 100 are eminent in their respective fields of teaching and scholarship.

The East Texas State Teachers college was established in Commerce, one of our state's most modern, progressive and beautiful little cities with ideal location and environment. Perhaps a million people live within a radius of 100 miles of the college. Thus the institution is directly in touch and convenient to a vast body of aspiring young people. Its railroad facilities, its improved highways and all modern utilities provide every convenience that a larger city could have and yet the college has all the small town advantages of a social nature and high intellectual standards that are far more preferable to the larger and more congested urban cosmopolitan centers.

A Pretty Campus.

The college is located in a choice part of the town. It includes the campus, athletic fields and agricultural plot, paved streets and paved sidewalks lead through the grounds to the churches and business district of the town and to the homes of the citizens. The campus has been plotted, so that future improvements may harmonize and give the grounds even a more artistic appearance.

Pretty Group of Buildings.

The buildings, equipment and grounds are those of the former East Texas Normal college. At the time the institution was taken over by the state, seventeen years ago, the little city of Commerce raised by popular subscription $40,000 for additions and repairs and for the better equipment of the plant. At the same time the state added almost as much more for the same purpose. Among the buildings is the administration edifice, a brick with basement and three stories, which houses the administrative offices, auditorium and laboratories for physics and chemistry. Among the other buildings is the industrial hall that has been modernized. The State has erected a very handsome $275,000 Education-Auditorium building, 196 feet long and 200 feet deep and three stories. There are various other buildings. The latest one is a $200,000 library building that is truly an inspiring edifice. It is a three-story structure containing large reading rooms, seven classrooms, eight seminar rooms, large stack space for books, a museum, a child's library room and several offices.

One of the editors of this paper, with a number of other McKinney friends and voters, who went over to hear Judge Hughston's address, was shown through this and other buildings by our young friends, C. D. Taylor and Jimmie Cantrell, young McKinney educators, who are attending the summer college session. Jimmie Cantrell is a son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Cantrell of this city. He has spent three years in the institution. He is majoring in government and intends to continue in college until he attains his Master's Degree. For three years he has been business manager of the "East Texan," the college official publication.

C. D. Taylor is a son of C. A. Taylor of McKinney. The son has been teaching the past four years at Cottage Hill where he has been re-elected to teach again next year.

While looking through the college plant, we also met up with our longtime ex-Collin friend, James D. Williams, who has been holding a position and helping to care for the college property for the past eight years. During that time, he has educated his two children and deems himself very fortunate in being so favorably located at such a great school.

Among the faculty members that the editor personally met were Prof. A. C. Ferguson, professor of Education and Dean of the college, and Prof. H. H. J. Fling, Professor of Education and head of that important department. Prof. Fling is quite well known in Collin county. He has often lectured before the teachers of the county and teachers meetings and normals held at McKinney here where he has many acquaintances and good friends, among them former County Superintendent Prof. W. S. Smith.

Among the East Texas State Teachers college graduates teaching in McKinney and this county are Prof. Chas. T. Eddins, principal of the Fanny Finch Grammar school; Prof. D. C. Rogers, head of the Manual Training Department; Mrs. D. C. Rogers; Prof. Truman Douglas, Miss Mattie Lou Cooper, Miss Grace Bee Littrell and perhaps others.

These editors and the people of our entire county are proud of the East Texas State Teachers college as an institution of higher learning headed by one of our state's most noted educators, Prof. Whitley, a former Governor of this Rotary district in which capacity we first met him. Under the guidance of such men, the college is bound to keep on improving its plant, enlarging its facilities and perfecting its work that is already recognized and appreciated for its scholarship and high standards as exemplified by its product—its graduates teaching here and elsewhere over the state.

MORE SANITARY QUARTERS FOR COUNTY PRISONERS

INTERIOR OLD COUNTY JAIL REPAINTED AND RENOVATED

A representative of this paper accepted the courteous invitation of Sheriff G. J. S. Walker to "come with me to jail." We really took pleasure in accepting.

On entering the front door of the prison, we were politely welcomed by Mrs. S. J. Allen, wife of Jailer Allen and matron of the institution, who unlocked heavy steel doors both on the ground floor and upper story of steel bar lattice-constructed cells that looked to us capable of securely holding the most desperate and cunning criminal. Yet, we read almost every day of jailbreaks from prisons much more modern and secure than our sixty-year-old rock built and steel caged county bastile.

Sheriff Walker stated that during the year and a half that he and Jailer Stoney Allen have been in office, only two out of a total of sixteen or eighteen hundred prisoners handled had made their escape from our county jail and both of them were speedily recaptured. This strikes us as a very excellent record for Jailer Allen and wife and the Sheriff.

At the time of our visit Monday, twenty-four prisoners were held in hoch by Jailer Allen. Of these, three were white women and one a colored woman—the latter demented and held awaiting room in some hospital for the insane.

This reminds us that Collin county is minus facilities for taking care of her insane ,even temporarily. If possible, we would like to see at least one spacious cell prepared with padded bars and floors and other equipment for the comfort and safe-keeping of any among our citizenship who are so unfortunate as to become violently deranged mentally. In fact, our state government facilities are also sadly deficient to meet the need of mental defectives that are entitled to skilled, scientific care and treatment.

The reporter also observed that the cells and the interior walls, both upstairs and down, in the jail have just been neatly repainted and the building placed in as thoroughly a sanitary condition as is possible to place such an old out-of-date county jail structure.

We probably passed up an opportunity when the old county courthouse was remodeled four or five years ago to then provide the county with adequate, modern jail equipment. It would have been built then on the t story of the courthouse at a minimum of cost with plenty of room and every modern convenience needed. Many county jails are now placed on the top story of the county courthouse. This kind of location affords greater security for the safekeeping of prisoners and is an added protection and shield for law and order.

Sheriff Walker, Jailer Stoney Allen and the latter's wife, the gracious matron of our county prison, are all justly proud of the sanitary condition and neater and more healthful appearance of our county jail since the recent renovation of the interior of the building and of the cells containing the prisoners has been finished up.

Glen Scott, one of the proprietors and manager of the Scott & Cole filling stations and wholesale oil and gas dealers of our city, has returned from Austin where he visited his wife for a day or two. She is attending the summer school of the tate university. Her twin sister, Mrs. G. Edward Boiger, is also attending the same Summer session. Those young ladies are daughters of Dr. and Mrs. M. O. Berry of Allen.

SHERIFF'S OFFICE ARSENAL FOR VARIETY OF ARMS

GUN CASE FILLED WITH HIGH POWERED RIFLES, AND OTHER WEAPONS

Sheriff G. J. S. Walker has a neatly polished glass door guncase resting on top of his desk in his office on the ground floor of the courthouse that is well stocked with shooting arms of a very interesting assortment.

In fact, the guncase is filled to capacity with rifles of different calibers—sawed-off shotguns and different makes and caliber pistols. Some of the high-powered rifles are capable of killing a man at from 400 to 600 yards distance.

In case of an emergency Sheriff Walker and his deputies have plenty of shooting irons at hand and quickly available to bring into play at a moment's notice when needed, which this reporter hopes may not be very soon.

ties in the office are J. W. Douglas, formerly of Melissa; George Eubanks, formerly of Dump, and Arbie Sparlin of McKinney. The latter is finger-print expert.

Deputy Sparlin has a huge number of photos and descriptions of the more notorious criminals, who are wanted throughout the country. This collection of pictos is neatly arranged on large panels in the lobby of the Sheriff's office where they can handily be inspected by anyone interested or who might care to look over them.

S. J. (Stony) Allen is another ces of Sheriff Walker's deputies and also county jailer.

Mr. and Mrs. Alder Thrifty Verona Farm Couple

Henry C. Alder, a good farmer of the Verona community, reported cotton blooms and a few small bolls in his field on June 23 ,which is the earliest so far reported to this paper.

His good wife has already put up 259 cans of berries and vegetable with her home pressure canner, thus far this season. This is a pretty good record for Mrs. Alder, whom this editor has known for a good many years. She is one of the most thrifty farm housewives we have in the county. She also now has 100 little Rhode Island Red chicks.

She and her husband believe in raising their own living on their farm and in their garden every year. They have learned how to conserve their surplus food products. These good people are longtime friends and regular readers of the Weekly Democrat-Gazette.

A freak rat with six legs was killed and brought into town at Van Alstyne by Henry Gandy, living a few miles southwest of that town a few days ago. The strange specimen was put into a bottle of alcohol and placed in the window of a local furniture store. An effort was made to take the rat alive when its deformity was noticed but this was impossible. The six legs are fully developed and the rat seemed to be able to get around with increased speed according to Mr. Gandy.

John H. Nicholson, a 74-year-old farmer living on his place two miles south of Melissa, near Heard interurban stop, was a business visitor at this office Wednesday. He has threshed his small grain crops, making twelve bushels per acre on his wheat and thirty-one bushels per acre on his oats. He states that there are lots of cotton fleas damaging his cotton crop, while the need of rain is causing his corn crop prospects to rapidly deteriorate. Mr. Nicholson was born near his present homeplace in Collin county nearly three-quarters of a century ago. He is a member of one of our county's most highly esteemed pioneer families.

C. H. (Charlie) Akin of Princeton, who recently announced for representative from the Forty-Fifth Flotorial District in the State Legislature composed of the counties of Collin and Grayson, was in Sherman and Whitesboro Tuesday in the interest of his candidacy. On Wednesday, he was in Denison and Whitewright. Mr. Akin was a member of the Forty-Second Legislature from this, the Forty-Third Legislative district, which embraces only Collin county. He voluntarily retired two years ago. Mr. Akin says he is going to continue very active in the campaign now until the primary election, July 28.

C. H. (Charlie) Akin of Princeton was a visitor to Plano Monday afternoon. He is a candidate for Flotorial Representative from Collin and Grayson counties. His announcement appears in this week's issue of this publication. Charlie served two years as representative in the Texas Legislature—made a good one too. Charlie has been buying onions at Princeton this season. He tells us that 182 cars of onions were shipped from that place this season.—Plano Star-Courier.

CHAMBERSVILLE SCHOOL TEACHERS WED SUNDAY

PROF. WM. H. FRAZIER AND MISS RUTH WHITE WERE PRINCIPALS

Roy Roberts and wife of this city attended the wedding of Miss Ruth White, daughter of the late Claude D. White, and William Harold Frazier of Farmersville, at Dallas at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, with Rev. Thos. Sterck, pastor of the Allen Methodist church officiating. The wedding took place at the home of her step-mother, with whom she lived, Mrs. Claude D. White, 118 Willomet, Dallas. The wedding was a beautiful one and solemnized before an improvised altar formed of a trellis of honeysuckle and large baskets of gladiola placed on either side. Miss Gwendolyn Stone of Dallas played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by R. H. Reynolds, a special friend of the bride's deceased father during his lifetime. She wore a white organdie frock designed with ruffles around the bottom of the skirt and with short, puff sleeves. Her flowers were white roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Reynolds of Dallas who wore a frock fashioned of blue net with a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds.

S. J. Cook of Farmersville was best man for the bridegroom.

A reception followed the ceremony at which Miss Adelaide Melville of St. Louis presided at the cake.

The couple left immediately after the reception for a wedding trip to Mineral Wells and Lubbock. A blue sheer dress trimmed in lighter blue pique with blue accessories were worn as the bride's traveling costume. The couple will make their home at Lubbock.

Miss White, the bride, attended Stephens college, at Columbia, Missouri, and Washington university, at St. Louis, from which she received her degree.

Mr. Frazier received his college education at the Texas Technological college, at Lubbock. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Frazier of Farmersville and is a young Collin county teacher of splendid ability and character. During the past two years, he was principal of the Consolidated High school at Chambersville, eight miles north of McKinney, in which his bride was also a teacher during the past year. Prof. Frazier was re-elected to the same position again for next year.

Among the out-of-town guests present at the wedding besides Mr. and Mrs. Roberts of McKinney was their son, Roy Roberts, who holds a d eputyship in the State Fire Insurance Commission, at Austin; Miss Melville of St Louis, Mo.; Miss Cecile Mitchell St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. J. J Frazier, Farmersville; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rike, Farmersville Mr. and Mrs. Otis Dixon, Blue Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kirkpatrick, Brownwood, and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Jared of Tyler.

Young Collin Couple.

The contrasting parties above are both members of respected old Collin county families. As stated above, the groom comes from Farmersville where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Frazier, reside. The bride, Miss Ruth White, is the daughter of the late Claude D. White, a successful businessman of Chambersville, who later lived at Fort Worth, Dallas, Kansas City and St. Louis, having died at the latter place about four years ago.

The bride's mother, formerly Miss Linnett Moore, was born and reared at Chambersville, being the daughter of C. B. Moore and wife, an honored pioneer couple of Chambersville for perhaps a half century. Her mother died in Fort Worth about sixteen or seventeen years ago, her remains being brought back to Chambersville and buried in the private cemetery on the old C. B. Moore homestead, consisting of more than 200 acres, which the bride in the above happy marriage now owns.

The Moore family had a large part in the development of that part of the county. C. B. Moore and his brother, the late Uncle Henry Moore, were millwrights, who came to Texas when young men before the War, settling in his county and lived and died at Chambersville on their farmland adjoining the old homeplace of Uncle Gus Wilson, who was their cousin. They were also cousins of the late John P. A. Wallace, father-in-law of Henry Lewis and of former County Commissioner and Postmaster N. A. Burton, both of this city.

The bride is a charming, cultured young lady who has many relatives and friends in this county, who hope some day that the young couple may take up their permanent residence on their Collin county farm that they of the third generation of the Moore family now own.

Rev. S. W. Miller of Frisco was here Monday. Dropped by to see us. Rev. Miller tells us that a fine rain fell Sunday, being 1 3-8 inches .He tells us it was greatly needed and of much benefit to growing crops.

S. C. Stiff, to the delight of his many friends, will move back to McKinney from Fort Worth. Born and reared here. A good citizen. Owns considerable McKinney property and his friends are legion.

W. A. (Will) Kerby of McKinney, efficient law enforcing officer of Collin for many years, and now candidate for Sheriff of Collin county, was in Plano Tuesday afternoon seeing the voters. He visited this office. He has many warm friends and supporters in Plano and South Collin. His announcement appears in this issue of this paper to which your attention is directed.—Plano Star-Courier.

L. A. Stewart well-known farmer living near Princeton, was in McKinney Saturday. He is improving in health now, and we hope will soon be entirely back to his old time normal strength.

Mrs. M. T. Jones, wife of former Mayor Jones, continues quite ill in the City hospital. Mr. Jones has been ill for some six weeks. Mayor Jones told us Wednesday that his wife was doing as well as could be expected. This will be wonderful good news to Mrs. Jones' many friends.

J. W. Moseley of McKinney, candidate for county superintendent, paid this office a pleasant visit on Tuesday afternoon. Prof. Moseley was reared just east of Plano, and was graduated from the Plano High school. He is one of the county's most successful and best known educators.—Plano Star-Courier.

Chas. M. Cooper, McKinney business man, civic and church worker, and some 15 members of his Don W. Bagwill and Fred Earl Slaughter's Sunday school classes of the First Methodist church have returned from a most delightful several days 'outing at Lake Worth. It has been the custom of Mr. Cooper for several years to treat the members of his class and other youths to a trip to Lake Worth annually. All report a fine time.

James Merritt Jr. will leave Thursday for Wiley, Ga., where he will enter Camp Dixie for the summer. James attended this camp last summer.

Nearly 80 Years in McKinney.

The maiden name of the deceased was Mary Louise Smith, daughter of Dr. B. M. E. Smith, a pioneer McKinney physician and surgeon and business man, who died in McKinney in November, 1886. She was born, at Barry, Clay county, in the State of Missouri, August 10, 1850. Her mother, whose maiden name was Miss Ann Amelia Tinsley, before her marriage to Dr. Smith, died in Missouri when the deceased was only nineteen months old. Her father, Dr. B. M. E. Smith, first came to McKinney in 1854; in a few months thereafter, or in the early part of 1855, he moved his family here. She was educated in McKinney, attending school at the old Mount Pleasant Academy, Eld. J. S. Muse, principal, which school stood on the rill on North Waddill street on the site now occupied by the Hon. J. M. Muse home. On October 7, 1868, she became the bride of Tom J. Cloyd who had come to McKinney prior to the Civil war and as stated above, and was a Confederate veteran, prominent Mason and McKinney merchant until his death, January 21, 1921, his burial taking place on his seventy-seventh birthday, on January 23. She was converted in the Major Penn revival meeting in McKinney in 1886, then uniting with the First Baptist church, in which communion she lived a devoted Christian life, being, along with her husband, active in church attendance and church work until the decrepitude of advancing age prevented her further attendance. Her husband was a deacon in the church for many years and church treasurer. She was active in Sunday school and women's circles and also in the Eastern Star. Her bright intellect centered in her home life and rearing of her children, the making of a happy home and her church and lodge work. She shrank from publicity, always preferring in her modest way, to live her useful, loving and devoted life in sacrificial retirement as much as possible. Her long life was filled throughout with service to loved ones and to those interests calculated to make for a better world here on earth and the attainment of a happy home beyond for her and all those with whom she had influence. The impress of her life was altogether on the side of righteousness, upright living and for the advancement of good in every way for her loved ones, neighbors and friends.

Her Survivors.

She is survived by five children, as follows: Joe, Ben and Tom J. Cloyd Jr., all of McKinney; Will Cloyd of Dallas and an only daughter, Mrs. Joe B. Burger of McKinney; also, by four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

She was the last living member of the family of her father, Dr. B. M. E. Smith. Her deceased brothers and sisters were: Ed Smith, Harry Q. Smith, Clarence W. Smith, Mrs. J. K. P. Shrader and Miss Nena Smith. Her sons, Will Cloyd of Dallas and Tom J. Cloyd of McKinney both have long held responsible positions in the United States Postal Service. Her brothers, Harry Q. Smith and Clarence W. Smith, were druggists in McKinney for many years.

The Smith and Cloyd families, for the last eighty years have been leaders in the professional and business life of McKinney and Collin county.

When death took Mrs. Cloyd she had been a resident of our city for seventy-nine years and the greater part of that long period she lived on the same spot where she resided when she passed away.

CAPACITY FOR SEATING

Private homes never provide seating capacity for a funeral service . . . The Harris Funeral Home offers more accommodation in this regard, which gives a homelike atmosphere as well as lots of seats. There are a large number of good reasons why you should patronize the Harris Funeral Home and exercise your influence for them, other reasons will be published.

TEXAS POWER AND LIGHT CO. REDUCE RATES IN M'KINNEY

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE BY H. S. WARE, DISTRICT MANAGER

Residential and commercial lighting rates in McKinney have again been voluntarily reduced, effective the current now being used. This announcement was made today by H. S. Ware, district manager of the Texas Power and Light Company.

This reduction was made possible by an improvement in residential and commercial lighting sales and because of the company's faith in a continued improvement in earnings from this class of business, Mr. Ware said.

The new rates will immediately benefit a majority of residential and commercial customers and are designed to encourage a wider use of electric service.

The so-called 7 and 5 cent residential rate has been reduced in this manner: The first step of the rate has been changed for 7 to 6 cents for the first four killowatt hours used per room. The 5 cent step has been changed to head that the next 60 kilowatt hours are billed at this rate instead of all additional service under the old rate. Then the company has added two additional low steps which will permit many customers to use much cheap energy. Using a five-room house as an example, after the customer has used 20 kilowatt hours at 6 cents and 60 additional kilowatt hours at 5 cents, the next 100 kilowatt hours are bought at 3 cents and all additional service at 2 cents. The same flat rate of 60 cents per month for four rooms and 10 cents per room for additional rooms is maintained.

The old 7, 5 and 3 cent commercial lighting rate has been changed to a 6, 5, 3 and 2 cent rate. This means that the top step has been reduced to 6 cents and that two new steps of 3 and 2 cents have been provided. Here is the complete rate: Six cents for the first 100 kilowatt hours per mouth per kilowatt or maximum demand; 5 cents for the next 100 kilowatt hours per month per kilowatt of maximum demand; 3 cents for the next 500 kilowatt hours and 2 cents for all additional service. The same flat rate of 60 cents net per month for each 500 watts of maximum demand up to 2,000 watts and 10 cents net per month for each 100 watts of maximum demand in excess of 2,000 watts is provided in the new rate.

There are also provided optional residential and commercial lighting rates for those who prefer a different type of rate.

"This voluntary reduction is part of the policy of the Texas Power and Light Company to give the best service at the lowest possible rates consistent with sound business practice," Mr. Ware said. "It is significant that the company has lowered these rates at a time when the prices of many other items in the family budget are climbing.

COMPLETING PLANS FOR ADDRESS OF HON. JAS. V. ALLRED

Arrangements are being completed for the speaking of James V. Allred, candidate for governor, who will speak in McKinney Wednesday night, July 11, at 8:30 o'clock. All voters, both men and women are invited to hear Mr. Allred when he speaks in behalf of his candidacy for governor.

Mrs. J. A. Stephens, residing at 522 North Tennessee street, and two little sons, Jimmie Ray, nine, and Billy, six, were business visitors at our office Wednesday. Mrs. Stephens was formerly Miss Eva Capps, daughter of Mrs. J. A. Capps, who resides on South Tennessee street. J. A. Capps, father of Mrs. Stephens, died at his home in McKinney on the eleventh of this month after a protracted illness of about two months. Mr. Capps who was fifty-six, was a native of Kentucky and had lived in or near McKinney for about thirty-four years. He was a good man and held in esteem by all who knew him. Mrs. Stephens' husband is a mechanic, who is now helping to repair and improve a gin at Howe, Grayson county.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hines are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine five and a half pound baby son born to them this (Friday) morning at 10 o'clock at the City hospital. The infant has been named Gordon. The mother and baby are both doing nicely. The young mother was Miss Louise Garrison before her marriage, being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Garrison of this city. The proud father is associated with Pratt Bros. grocery in this city. The happy young parents are receiving congratulations from their multitude of friends upon the arrival of their sweet baby son.

Former County Clerk Shirley G. Taylor went to Dallas Thursday to meet his old father, T. J. Taylor, who has been visiting one of his sons who lives in Fort Worth and family. T. J. Taylor is a veteran retired Collin county farmer who spends most of the time with his son, R. L. Taylor at Crowell, Foard county, West Texas.
